

Algerine Plow.

We were yesterday shown a plow, invented by J. M. Lelton, a Frenchman, now residing in this city, which is to be sent to the World's Fair, as one of the articles of St. Louis manufacture.

Mr. Ronce invented the plow some years since in Algiers, Africa, where it is now almost exclusively used. The plow we saw was made in this city, at the foundry of McMurtry & Pawley, on Chesnut, between Ninth and Tenth streets, where it may be seen. It has been tried in this State, and answers the purpose admirably. It is pronounced by judges to be far superior to anything of the kind ever used in this country. We will say a few words its construction, and manner of operation.

It runs without being held by the hands, and is supported and kept straight in the furrow by two wheels, by which its depth is also regulated. The clevis is composed of an iron bar which is raised or lowered, as occasion may require, by a small screw, which may be turned with the hand. The great advantage of this plow is that the motive power is placed nearer the work than in other plows, and the mold-board being straighter, there is about one-third less friction than in any other plow now used. Consequently, it requires one-third less power to do the same amount of work. It is, also, arranged with a particular regard for plowing rough, stumpy land, and for breaking the ground close around the roots of trees, the clevis moving on either side as required. In plowing with this ingenious piece of machinery, all a man has to do is to walk along behind it or support himself on the handle as he may incline, and turn the plow and let it in at the corners. It turns up the ground at a regular depth, from the most shallow to the deepest furrow, as required, unevenness of the land making no difference in its running. The plow of its genus possesses all the advantages of all other plows in use, and many peculiarities its own. It is, indeed, an ingenious contrivance, and farmers ought to see it if they wish to possess a complete article of this sort.

Those who have rough, stony or stumpy land should not fail to possess one, as large roots and other impediments to plowing are turned up by it without difficulty, and the ground thoroughly worked—prepared for seed. To those who may be interested in this new improvement, we will say that these plows are comparatively cheap considering the work there is upon them. There are nine different sizes designated by the numbers from one to nine—No. 1 being the smallest. No. 1 with all the fixtures comes at about $22, and they increase at the rate of about $4 per number as they ascend on the scale of size. All the works excepting the beam and handles are of cast iron, and the plow may be had if desired, with, or without the regulating wheels.

A small model of the plow was sent on to Washington yesterday for the purpose of being patented, and one that had been used near the city will be sent to the World's Fair at New York. Mr. Ronce deserves great credit for the invention, and it will doubtless be patronized by farmers, and answer the purposes for which it is intended. We understand that these plows are to be manufactured at McMurtry & Pawley's, on Chesnut street, where Mr. Ronce will be found, willing to give any information that may be desired on the capacity and pretensions of his plow.—St. Louis Intel.

New Boot and Shoe Manufactory!

THE UNDERSIGNED takes this method of informing his old customers, friends and the public generally, that I have again commenced the manufacture of Boots and Shoes of the very best material. Persons wishing articles in my line will do well to give me a call, before purchasing elsewhere, as my stock is well selected, comprising the best article of French and American calf skins, ditto kid, ditto upper, all of which I will make to order at the shortest notice.

Shop on Hill street, a few doors east of Selmes' Store.
RICHARD FITZPATRICK.
P. S.—I will keep constantly on hand an assortment of fine calf boots, kid boots; also, coarse boots and shoes, which I will warrant to be of the very best quality.

Barber's Shop.
PETER JOHNSON.
RESPECTFULLY offers his services to the public. He keeps the best quality of razors, and keeps them sharp. He will always pay strict attention to cleanliness and neatness. He cuts and dresses hair in a style that never fails to please his customers. As a knight of the scissors and razor he yields to none in Hannibal. His charges are reasonably low. As he intends to continue fitting up and improving his establishment, as fast as his means will allow, he hopes to have the patronage of the citizens of Hannibal, whose well known chief characteristic of energy, leads them to desire to see everything on the progressive march. Recollect it is the shop nearest to Hickman's Stove Store. It is on the west side of Main street, two doors north of Bird street.
